Hi Tim,

First of all my apologies that the system didn't work last night - again.

I met with Mark, the supplier today and he found that a little receiver, glued to the front of the amplifier had fallen off. He glued it on again and the system worked perfect again.

After a short discussion he admitted that the company changed to a more eco friendly glue - and since then they had problems. We gave it a little bit more security now with some high tea cello tape 🍯. Hope that stays on now. The same receiver is glued to the front of the projector.

So, when we meet on Thursday everything should work - hopefully.

Kind regards

Reinhard Gebhard
