

Trading Keyboards for Community Impact

The team behind
Our road network

At Downer, we believe in making a positive difference in the communities where we live and work. Downer Community Volunteering is an opportunity for our people to step away from their desks, connect with their colleagues, and engage in meaningful, group-based community projects.

These volunteer days are designed to bring our teams together to contribute their time, skills, labour, and resources to support local community initiatives. Whether it's improving a community space, enhancing a local facility, or assisting a community organisation, we're committed to creating lasting positive impact.

Seeking Community Project Nominations

We invite you to nominate local projects that could benefit from the support of our volunteering programme.

Projects may include improvements to community spaces, recreational facilities, schools, reserves, community gardens, or other initiatives that enhance the wellbeing of local residents.

If you're aware of a worthy project within your community, we'd welcome your nomination. Together, we can turn local ideas into tangible outcomes and make a meaningful difference where it's needed most.

Submit your project nomination and help us identify opportunities to support the communities we serve.

Please email nomination through to Tasman Alliance Manager, Matt Sledmore matthew.sledmore@downer.co.nz

We're looking for practical projects that:

- Can be completed in one day
- Would benefit from labour and minimal materials and/or machinery
- Deliver a lasting and positive outcome for the local community
- Can be safely undertaken by a team of Downer volunteers
